J. D. Easton & Co.—Dissolution notice.
Messrs. Poe & Melloan—Entertainment.

That eagle man is dodging 'round,
His face is in a grin,
Because he had the pluck to scoop
The city printing in.
No need there is to rip and tear,
And prance around and snort,
For dead for sure he's got the boys
Just where the hair is short.

Work was resumed at the distillery of H. E. Pogue & Co., last Wednesday.

The steamer Racket has entered the trade between this place and Augusta in opposition to the Clipper.

Mr. JOHN B. ORR, son of Mr. George W. Orr, one of Maysville's leading contractors and builders, and Miss Emma P. Sauer were quietly wedded, Thursday, the 1st inst., at the residence of Rev. S. B. Alderson.

The city of Lexington had better not bank too heavily on a reduction in the price of insurance following the establishment of water works there. Maysville cannot speak of that experience very enthusiastically.

Rev. S. H. CHESTER will preach at Washington Hall Sunday morning and evening. Morning subject: "The Religion of the Primitive Christians." Evening subject: "The Necessity of Earnestness in Religion."

The residence of Mr. John A. Miller, son-in-law of Mr. James H. Hall, burned at Atlanta, Ga., on the 31st ult. All the family escaped uninjured, and most of the furniture was saved. Mr. Miller's friends in Maysville will be sorry to hear of his bad luck.

A CARRIAGE containing Mrs. Julia S. Chenoweth and Mrs. John Poyntz, while standing in front of the residence of Dr. H. C. Morgan, on Thursday afternoon was upset down a steep embankment. The carriage was badly broken up, but, fortunately, neither of the ladies was seriously hurt.

Mr. R. B. LOVEL has hanging in front of his grocery store on Market street, a beet that weighs 25½ pounds. It was grown in the farm of Colonel W. W. Baldwin. It is exhibited by Mr. Lovel as a hint to the public that in the vegetable line as in all others, this enterprising establishment can't be beat.

A TELEGRAM was received in Maysville this morning, of the death at Natchez, Miss., of Mrs. Emma Maher, on the 31st ult. Mrs. Maher's maiden name was Miss Emma Lyle, and she will be remembered as a guest of Miss Anna Atkinson a few years ago. During her visit to Maysville she became a general favorite, and has many friends here who will be grieved to hear of her death.

The alarm of fire, Thursday afternoon, was caused by a small blaze at the public school building No. 2. The roof caught fire in some manner—probably from a spark from the chimney—but the blaze was soon discovered, and extinguished by the prompt efforts of the larger pupils, and the residents of the neighborhood. The loss is trifling; not exceeding $25.

Mrs. MARIA HIXSON, who died on Monday, Oct. 29th, at the residence of Mr. Charles Dimmitt, of this county, had reached the eightieth year of her age. She was the daughter of James and Hannah Dimmitt, early settlers of the county, and was born Oct. 11, 1804, in the homestead where she quietly passed away. She leaves one child, Mr. Wm. D. Hixson, of this city; two grand children and three great-grand children. Two brothers, Mr. Charles Dimmitt, of this county, and Judge Nathan S. Dimmitt, of Ralls county, Mo., and one sister, Mrs. Catherine Buford, of Missouri, survive her.

The river at Pittsburg is falling, with ten feet of water in the channel. The following shipments of coal were made on the present rise: For Cincinnati, Ark, L. W. Morgan, Lud Keefer, Alexander Swift, Chas. Brown, Onward, Pacific, John E. Walton, Bengal Tiger, Eagle, Hornet No. 5, with twenty-six coal boats, ninety-seven barges, four fuels, containing 1,797,000 bushels; for Ironton, five barges coke, 125,000 bushels; for Louisville, W. W. O'Neill, Reindeer, Smoky City, Diamond, Samuel Clark, Nellie Walton, Ben Wood, Nellie Speer, Raymond Horner, ten coal boats, ninety-six barges, sixteen fuels, containing 1,513,000 bushels. In many instances coal was sent by small tugs to meet the boats on their way up. Should the water hold up, the shipments will be increased. The Monongahela is falling at head-water. The Alleghany is rising.

The citizens of Short street were granted leave to construct a sewer from the south side of Third street to low water mark on the river bank. The city contributed $85 to the work.

Ben. Smith's tax referred to committee on propositions and grievances.

The committee on internal improvements was instructed to examine the gutter on the north side of Third street, west of Wall, and put an edge-paved gutter along the side walk.

The subscription of the city to the tanyard sewer, $400, was ordered to be paid.

A motion to dam Limestone creek with rock was lost.

The case of Mrs. Minton was referred to the committee on alms.

Mr. Gilbert's Readings To-night.

Rev. Mr. Gilbert gives the last of the three entertainments heretofore announced in our columns, to-night, at the Christian Church. It will consist of readings from popular authors, of great variety in their scope, embracing the serious and humorous. By special request he will repeat "The Bells," by Edgar A. Poe, and "The Chapter on Guides," from Mark Twain, and will read also an original poem, "Kit Carson's Ride," "Out of the Old House into the New," "Gone with a Handsome Man," "Miss Maloney on the Chinese Question," "Gape-Seed, the Drummer's Bride," etc., will form part of the rich bill of fare.

Five Monuments.

I have just received direct from the quarries in Vermont, a large number of handsome monuments and headstones of artistic design and fine finish, which I offer for sale cheaper than they can be bought elsewhere. Call and see the stock. All work in my line promptly and satisfactorily done. S. J. DAUGHERTY. o26dlw

Harper for Christmas.

The Christmas number of Harper's Magazine will be an unusually beautiful number, and will surpass all previous undertakings in magazine literature. Leave orders with Harry Taylor, No. 23, Market street.

Old folks and nervous people should go to Kackley's gallery for pictures by the lightning process. Don't wait for sunshine, any kind of weather will do. Kackley's dry plates will do you up.

PERSONALS.

Miss Nellie Byrne, who has charge of the Parochial school at Brooksville, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Kate Byrne, of this city.

For the BULLETIN.

TO CAPTUS.

BY R. EYSE.

Bard of Washington, thy song,
Sung so loud and sung so long,
To these beaming eyes of brown,
Has at last upset the town;
For every girl with hazel eyes
Claims thee, Captus, as her prize.

Captus, since the days of old—
As by poets, we are told—
Since Ioula's foamy wave,
To the world, love's Goddess gave,
Many a bard has made his line,
Captus, so meek as in thine.

Yet, there's something sadly strange
In the way your metres change:
How very strange poetic feet
E'er should beseech an Indiscreet
As to stagger; and 'tis best,
Now I think, to let them rest.

COUNTY POINTS.

BURTONVILLE.

Farmers here are very busy gathering their corn.

Rev. Charles Asten Darnley will deliver a sermon at the house of Wm. Hornback on the first Sunday in next month.

John Lamm's heirs are rapidly improving their farm and erecting a commodious dwelling.

S. J. Parson's young daughter, Minnie, is lying very low with the croup. Dr. J. F. Irvin, her attending physician, thinks she will soon recover.

S. J. Dadd, Wm. Jones and Samuel Parson have completed the county road leading from Burtonville to Escalopia. It is the best new road in the county.

John W. Praet has completed his tobacco warehouse. He will soon be in readiness to receive tobacco.

Enoch Doid has returned from New York with a large stock of merchandise, and is doing a good business.

W. H. Thomas, our village butcher, is doing a good business.

Hon. Wm. Middleton and Joseph Honey have gone to Grayson, Carter county, to practice law.

Rev. M. D. Murphy commences a protracted meeting at Mt. Zion on the 31st inst.

The new mill purchased of A. J. Calvert is doing a first-class business. The owners understand handling it to meet with success.

RAMBLER.

Two days of the great debate are already numbered with the cycles of the past, and still the interest increases. The public—the final arbiters of all matters—are undecided as to who is the victor. Just as it was in the days of the Apostles, when some were for Paul and some for Cephas, so we find some for Sweeney and others for Hanford, as it is on and on goes the wage of battle. Argument is met by argument, wit by wit, ridicule by ridicule, and the dense and packed audience laugh and applaud by turns. Lunch at high noon, exchange of views, then a return to witness the fray of the lanceets, and go home full of theology and anecdote to be retold around the quiet hearthstone. The town is alive with dangers—distinguished ministers, lawyers, ladies of great beauty and loveliness. Will try to list them in my next if my lieutenants report on time.

Kentucky Stone.

Lexington Transcript.

The use of Kentucky stone in the building of the court house has suggested a most important matter as to the future architecture of our city; namely, that a house can be built out of stone more beautiful than the celebrated brown stone of the east, and at an expense that is nominally no more than that of brick. The difference in cost of a building worth $96,000 as between brick and stone, was only $1,500; so that in an ordinary business in this city, in the same proportion the difference ought not to be more than a hundred or two dollars. The reasons are obvious. The stone is easily accessible and so large a portion of the work can be done by machinery, while brick work is nearly all manual labor. It would seem that there is a magnificent opening for business for some man to start a stone saw mill here and furnish the sawed stone for all kinds of building at prices that would pay him, and which it would appear he could easily show to the interest of builders to pay.
